DEMOCRATS NOMINATE HOWE OF ST. JOHNSBURY

The Democratic State Convention was held at Montpelier Tuesday and Harlan B. Howe of St. Johnsbury was nominated for governor, and the delegates at large to the National Convention at Baltimore are: C. D. Watson, St. Albans; Dr. W. B. Mayo, Northfield; Fred C. Martin, of Pownal and B. E. Bullard, Hardwick.

The Baltimore delegation is favorable to the re-election of Thos. H. Brown of Rutland as National Committeeman.

On the First District delegation are D. E. O'Sullivan of Colchester and Howard E. Shaw of Stowe. Those in the Second District are F. C. Luce of Waterbury and Placide E. Adams of Hartford. The delegates at large and First District were empowered to select their own alternates and those in the Second District are H. P. Sanford of Randolph and C. W. Locke, Springfield. The platform adopted makes no statement as to preference for the presidential nominee.

The only real fight came over a minority report of the committee on credentials which protested against the seating of delegates from 21 towns.

Chairman P. M. Meldon of Rutland twice put the motion and both times the chair was sustained in ruling the report out of order, though most of the delegates believed they were voting to overrule the decision of the chair.

Seated on the platform were P. M. Meldon, Rutland; H. C. Shurtliff, Montpelier; J. M. Kelly, Morristown; John Donnelly, Vergennes; J. H. Senter, Montpelier; J. E. Enright, Burlington; P. S. Howes, Montpelier; A. J. Sibley, Montpelier, and Emory S. Harris, of Bennington called the convention to order at 11:30. He introduced as temporary chairman, P. M. Meldon, Rutland; secretary, H. C. Shurtliff, Montpelier; assistant secretary, J. M. Kelly, of Morristown; committee on credentials, H. B. Howe, St. Johnsbury, C. P. Watson, St. Albans, T. W. Moloney, Rutland, V. A. Bullard, Burlington, F. C. Brown, Pownal; sergeant-at-arms, C. F. Howe.

One vice president for each county was elected as follows:

Addison, T. F. Kimble, Vergennes; Bennington, Richard M. Holton; Caledonia, Charles N. Whitney; Chittenden, J. R. Kelly; Essex, J. N. Hardy; Franklin, C. P. Parsons; Grand Isle, Albert Preston; Lamoille, C. L. McAllister; Orange, Alexander Cochran; Orleans, William White; Rutland, Dr. J. D. Hanrahan; Washington, Edward Gorman; Windham, Stephen Gray; Windsor, John C. Pollard.

Elisha May of St. Johnsbury nominated for governor, Harlan B. Howe, of St. Johnsbury, James E. Burke, of Burlington, in a long speech seconded the nomination and was followed by several others.

Mr. Howe was nominated by a rising vote amid cheers and cries of "speech" and "Howe."

For lieutenant governor H. C. Comings of Richford was nominated by a rising vote.

For treasurer, Martin A. Brown of Wilmington was named by F. W. Childs of Windham county and chosen by rising vote.

For secretary of state, J. C. Durick of Fair Haven was also nominated by rising vote, the first Burke man selected by the convention.

James E. Burke of Burlington named Louis W. Johnson, Burlington for state auditor and he was selected by the same method as the other candidates.

Delegates were elected for the District Convention to be held at White River Jet., June 26, the State Convention at Burlington, June 27, and the County Convention at Guildhall, July 10. The district delegates were instructed to support Porter H. Dale for State Senator; all the other delegates go uninstructed although they will support C. R. Powell for State's Attorney and are favorable to the nomination of E. Nelson of Norton for Asst. Judge of the County Court.

Delegates to State Convention: H. B. Amey and E. J. Parsons. Delegates to District Convention: G. S. Robinson, E. M. Bartlett and Porter H. Dale. Delegates to County Convention: L. A. Cobb, J. A. Worth, G. E. Clarke, L. F. Jones, R. E. Chesney, E. A. Bemis and E. J. Parsons. All delegates to choose their own alternates.

H. T. Frenier nominated B. E. Bailey for attorney general and he was chosen.

For presidential electors the following were chosen: P. S. Howes of Montpelier; J. G. Ullery, Brattleboro and S. J. Gray of Rockingham.

Candidate Howe was then escorted to the platform amid cheers. He said he came to the convention firm in the belief that Mr. Watson was to be the party leader and sincerely refused at that time to be a candidate.

Mr. Howe expressed his appreciation of the honor accorded him and asked for a united democracy in the fight to which he pledged his best efforts. He predicted favorable reception by the people.

On motion of Delegate Carmody, the state committee was empowered to fill any vacancies in the state ticket that may occur.

Miss Mabel Beebe of Swanton made a portiere while in California recently composed of 3,000 eucalyptus nuts, which were punctured and strung with alternating beads of guilt. The nuts are a silver gray color. Such portieres sell in California for $35.

For many years the Borden Condensed Milk company refused all milk from silage-fed cows, but two years ago purchased some silos for their experiment farms, and are now taking silage milk from all their stations. Last week W. R. Northrop sold for the Creamery Manufacturing company of this city a large silo to the Borden home farm at Wallkill, N. Y. This is the famous estate where Gale Borden himself lived for many years, and is still maintained by his family.

THREE DIE DURING THE PAST WEEK

Mrs. Charles Later

The community was startled and deeply grieved to learn of the sudden death of Mrs. Charles Later last Saturday morning. Mrs. Later was born September 20, 1881 and spent her childhood days here, then went to Auburn, Maine to live with her grandmother, where she met and married Mr. Later. Soon after their marriage they came to Island Pond and made their home with Mr. John Gerish, Mrs. Later's father.

Mrs. Later was of a quiet and retiring disposition, but to her intimate friends and neighbors was a deeply beloved and delightful companion. She was a musician of considerable ability, having a true and pleasing contralto voice and for some time was a member of the quartette in the Congregational Church. A baby girl, husband, father and grandmother will feel her absence most keenly.

The funeral ceremony was held at her late home on Monday afternoon where the solemn burial service of the church was read. The casket, covered with flowers, was taken to the nearby cemetery by the hands of the bearers, and committed to its resting place in the presence of a large gathering of sorrowing friends.

David A. Haynes

While the Odd Fellows were holding their memorial service on Sunday afternoon, news came to them of the death of David A. Haynes, at the home of Mr. Aaron Hawkins where he had been tenderly cared for during his last illness.

Mr. Haynes was one of the town's oldest business men having been engaged in various enterprises here since 1878 when he came from Charleston and entered the employ of J. M. Butters. Shortly afterward he built the grist mill on Pherring river, and for eighteen years ground all the grain used in this locality. In the fall of 1899, he purchased the grocery business then conducted by Dearborn Morse and continued in that line till he retired from active business. He held many town offices and was always faithful and efficient in the performance of his duties.

Pittsburg, N. H., July 2, 1844, was the place and time of Mr. Haynes' birth. When eight years old he went to Charleston, Vt., and from that time supported himself. At seventeen he married Maria Hopkins of Charleston and three children were born to them.

Mrs. Aaron Hawkins of this town and George A. Haynes of New York survive their father. One daughter died in childhood and Mrs. Haynes died Feb. 15, 1898. He was a member of the various branches of Odd Fellowship and had held the highest offices in the local orders. He was also a member of Island Pond Lodge of Masons whose burial service was read at his grave following the service conducted at the Methodist Church by the Pastor on Tuesday afternoon. The Masons acted as an escort and the bearers represented the fraternal orders and business men. David's genial disposition made friends for him everywhere and his absence will be sincerely regretted by all who knew him.

CHURCH NOTES

CHRIST CHURCH

Services next Sunday will be morning prayer and litany at 11 o'clock, Sunday School at 12.15 o'clock, and evensong at 7 o'clock.

First Measle Fatality

The two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Perry died Wednesday evening after a short illness of pneumonia following an attack of measles. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the entire community in their great loss.

Boys Do Damage

The Base Ball Association is provoked at the way the youth of the town have imposed upon them. Manager Wilcox allowed the youngsters the use of the ground to play their games and practice on and in return they have torn the boards from the grand stand, ripped the protecting screen and broken down the steps, carrying a large bowlder to aid them to accomplish this. Steps will now be taken to prosecute anyone found trespassing or in any way damaging the property, with a $5.00 reward for the conviction of the guilty parties.

Self-Made Man

We note in "Trade Journal" that The B. F. Goodrich and Diamond Rubber Companies of Akron, Ohio, have consolidated. The new Company manufactures everything made of rubber, and is conceded to be the strongest rubber concern in the country. Mr. F. H. Mason, formerly of Island Pond, is a heavy stockholder in the Goodrich Co., and is a good example of a self-made man.

G. L. Dyer assisted the Lyric Orchestra at the High school commencement exercises and ball at Colebrook, N. H., the former part of the week.

NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE STATE

The June convention of the Vermont State Spiritualist association will be held at Odd Fellows' hall, Wallingford, June 21, 22 and 23. A number of able speakers will be present.

The quarantine for diphtheria in Center Rutland has been lifted. A scare developed among the Polish residents when it became known that a case had gone without proper medical attention for a week.

The police of Rutland will rigidly enforce the laws regulating automobile traffic in that city, under the orders of State's Attorney Stafford. Two speeders were fined Wednesday in city court, the first $15 and the second $19.50.

Three monkeys kept at the state laboratory of health in Burlington got away Tuesday and had a fine time for several hours before they could be caught. Peanuts failed to tempt them and they wandered through the trees and to the home of Charles Lee on King street before they were captured. They seemed to realize their period of freedom would be short and determined to make the most of it. The animals are kept at the laboratory for experimental purposes.

As a result of an arrest for intoxication, William J. Collins, better known in Burlington as "Kicker," will be obliged to serve more than a year in jail or in the house of correction. Collins was arrested Wednesday for creating a disturbance and in City Court was found guilty of intoxication. He was fined $15 and costs, but will take the alternative sentence of 69 days in jail. The man was already on probation, as he was found guilty at the last term of County court for selling liquor illegally. Because of a plea of a sick wife and other circumstances, he was allowed out on probation with a sentence of not less than 10 months nor more than a year's imprisonment. As he has again been found guilty of violating the law he will be obliged to serve the sentence for selling liquor, in addition to the sentence for intoxication.

H. P. Crowell, who was graduated from the University of Vermont in the class of 1909, has been recently appointed superintendent of the Minnesota, Dakota & Western railway, with headquarters at International Falls, Minn., a signal honor for one so young. After graduating from the university he worked for two years as civil engineer for the Missouri Pacific road.

Lorne Elwyn, the actor and head of a company that played in Chandler Music hall some years ago, is again in Vermont, a state in which he has previously had a rather unhappy experience on account of personal misconduct at St. Johnsbury and also for violating copyright laws in presenting "The Christian." He has been out with another company for a full year and played three months in one theatre at Haverhill, Mass. Elwyn and his troupe are to give their repertoire at Barber Park, Bellows Falls, the week of June 24.

To raise the $400 which the school teachers of Rutland have promised as this city's contribution to the State teachers' pension fund, the various parent-teachers' association gave a society circus on the fair grounds Thursday afternoon and the proceeds will greatly exceed the sum named. The affair opened with a parade around the grounds by 800 school children, automobiles and carriages being used in lieu of the circus wagon, and the performance was given by the children in the open air. Over 2,000 people turned out for the affair in spite of the fact that many had to wear winter coats and furs to insure comfort.

LOCAL TEAM DEFEATED AT DERBY LINE

The local team traveled to Derby Line Saturday to play the team there but instead of playing ball they played a farce comedy. After delving into the Scorer's book we find the result 20 and 5. Up to the fourth inning it looked like a contest but after that it was a complete walk-around for the Liners. Poor support and weak hitting were the chief causes of the defeat. The bright spots to the locals playing were the throwing of Stevens and Danforth's steal home.

Takes Long Trip

Milton L. McGreu of Savannah, Ga. who is walking around U. S. and Canada was in town Monday. McGreu left Savannah March 2 and has walked the entire distance. He supports himself by the sale of cards descriptive of himself. Though thin he says he feels benefited already by his long jaunt.

Notice

150 pianos will soon be for sale and each one to be sold for less than $198.00

One year ago, unknown to me a piano was placed in my home for $150.00. This piano was supposed to be on trial only, so I have been informed. Later a note for $150.00 was asked and received unknown to me. The piano still remains in my home and I have personally requested the party to remove it.

Now I don't believe in outside parties interfering in business between man and wife for the sake of the sale of a $150.00 piano. All I ask the party to do is to return the note and remove his piano to save further trouble in time to come.

Yours truly,

W. R. BOULDS.
